Gabriel Fauré's Requiem Mass (the John Rutter edition of the 1893 version) will be performed and celebrated in the Anglican Church of St John the Evangelist, Dee Why, in a Mass for All Souls on Monday 2 November.

The performance will be directed by Dr Brett McKern, with the Cathedral Singers and soloists Judith Russell (soprano) and Craig Everingham (baritone) accompanied by St John's organist Tim Swales, local harpist Cliona Molins and an orchestra drawn from the NSW Conservatorium of Music.

The Mass will be celebrated by St John's Parish Priest, Fr Steven Salmon.

St John's Anglican Church welcomes everyone who wishes to come and share in this special occasion. As the performance of this Mass is part of our All Souls celebrations we will be able to remember and celebrate the lives of all those who have gone before us. There is no entry fee.

After the Mass supper will be served in the St John's Parish Community Centre.

For further information please telephone the St John's Parish Office on 9971 8694 between the hours of 9.00 am and 2.00 pm Monday to Friday.

This performance of Fauré's Requiem has been made possible by the generous support of the Gregory and Carr Community Support Programme.
